

Network Like a Pro in Academic Settings

-FEATURING-

Dan Jay, PhD

Postdoctoral Officer and Professor of Developmental, Molecular & Chemical Biology, Tufts University

Monday, June 5

11:30am - 2:00pm

NRB 1031, 77 Ave. Louis Pasteur

Presenting and publishing our data are critical to raising our research profile and promoting our science, but networking is also critical for scientific success.

Join us to hear what Prof. Dan Jay has to say about the benefits of networking in academia and how making lasting connections will help your career.

To register visit the OPF website:
postdoc.hms.harvard.edu